ERRATUM

On January 19, 2017, Red Pocket Inc. (“Red Pocket”), through its counsel, filed in the above-captioned proceeding before the Federal Communications Commission (the “Commission”) an Ex Parte. As filed, a sentence in the Ex Parte incorrectly refers to Assist Wireless as the subject of the Ex Parte. This sentence should instead make reference to Red Pocket. A copy of the Ex Parte, as modified to correct the erratum described herein, is attached for the Commission’s review. See Ex Parte at 2.

Re: Red Pocket Inc. Petition for Streamlined Designation as a Lifeline
Broadband Provider Eligible Telecommunications Carrier; Oral Ex
Parte Presentation; WC Docket No. 09-197

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On January 17, 2017, John Heitmann of Kelley Drye & Warren LLP spoke via telephone on behalf of Red Pocket Inc. (Red Pocket) with Claude Aiken, Legal Advisor to Commissioner Clyburn regarding Red Pocket's pending petition for designation as a Lifeline Broadband Provider (LBP) pursuant to the Lifeline Modernization Order.¹

During this discussion, I contested the Wireline Competition Bureau's (Bureau's) removal of Red Pocket's petition from streamlined processing. Specifically, I explained that the newly minted LBP designation process already was in danger of becoming a replica of the dysfunctional federal ETC designation and Lifeline-only compliance plan approval processes, through which the Commission has thwarted competitive entry not only in those states where it designates wireless service providers as ETCs, but across the country.² By standardizing

¹ See Lifeline and Link Up Reform and Modernization et al., WC Docket No. 11-42 et al., Third Report and Order, Further Report and Order, and Order on Reconsideration, 31 FCC Rcd 3962, 3969, para. 22 (2016) (Lifeline Modernization Order).

² With one exception applicable to two ETCs, each serving a single state, the Bureau last granted approval of a petition for Lifeline-only designation as an eligible telecommunications carrier in August 2012. See Telecommunications Carriers Eligible for Universal Support, et al., WC Docket No. 09-197, Order (rel. August 16, 2012); see also Telecommunications Carriers Eligible for Universal Service Support, et al., WC Docket No. 09-197, Order (rel. Nov. 26, 2014). With limited exceptions for wireline designation and an amended compliance plan, the Bureau last approved a compliance plan in December 2012. Wireline Competition Bureau Approves The Compliance Plans of Airvoice Wireless, Amerimex Communications, Blue Jay Wireless, Millennium 2000, Nexus Communications, Platinumtel Communications, Sage application requirements and review periods, the LBP designation process was designed to streamline competitive entry, not thwart it.

I also contested the Bureau's claim that "[i]n determining whether the Bureau should grant a petition for LBP designation, the Bureau should consider the unique 'advantages and disadvantages of the applicant's service offerings.'" ³ I explained that with the Commission's broadband minimum service standards in place, it should approve applicants on a technology- and service-neutral basis so that consumers can determine for themselves—based on their individual circumstances—the advantages and disadvantages of particular service offerings.

Despite the foregoing concerns, I nevertheless highlighted the unique advantages of ~~Assist's~~ Red Pocket's Lifeline broadband service offerings. I explained that Red Pocket already has a significant presence in the pre-paid wireless market, with a distinct focus on ethnic communities. For example, Red Pocket offers customer care in Mandarin, Filipino, Spanish and English. Moreover, Red Pocket is the only mobile virtual network operator (MVNO) with direct access to all four wireless mobile network operators (MNOs)—a considerable advantage in terms of consumer choice. Further, Red Pocket intends to include free international calling with all of its LBP plans. Calls to China, India, Mexico, Canada, and other select destinations will be rated the same as a domestic call included in any plan offered in conjunction with Red Pocket's Lifeline service. Red Pocket will offer consumers a choice of 3G or 4G speeds depending on the their device. Finally, Red Pocket will innovatively leverage unique partnerships to facilitate Lifeline distribution, including arrangements with the Office of the Bronx Borough President and eBay. Such offerings would be of great value to underserved Lifeline-eligible households, and bolster competition in the Lifeline program.

I concluded by requesting support for approving Red Pocket's LBP designation so that consumers in states like New York, Florida and elsewhere could gain access to Red Pocket's unique and innovative Lifeline service offerings.
